MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

I am pleased to present the 2019 Annual Report of the Honolulu Police Department, which details the activities and accomplishments of “Honolulu’s Finest,” and documents its integral role in safeguarding our city.

The residents of O’ahu are grateful to the men and women of the HPD for their dedication to providing excellent service that builds trust, reduces crime, creates safe neighborhoods and enhances the quality of life in our community.

In addition to making Honolulu a safe place to live, work, and play, the department recruits and trains new officers, advances police investigation techniques, addresses legislation, and provides a variety of programs to build community partnerships.

On behalf of the people of the City and County of Honolulu, I proudly salute the sworn and civilian employees of this outstanding organization for their devotion to duty in serving the residents and visitors of O’ahu.

Kirk Caldwell, Mayor
City and County of Honolulu

The Honolulu Police Commission is made up of seven members who are appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council. All members serve staggered terms of five years. They volunteer their services and do not receive any compensation.

A chair and vice chair are elected from within its membership every year. The commission chair for 2019 was Ms. Loretta A. Sheehan. Ms. Shannon L. Alivado served as vice chair.

The commission has the following mandated responsibilities:

- Appoints and may remove the Chief of Police;
- Evaluates the performance of the Chief of Police at least annually;
- Reviews rules and regulations for the administration of the Honolulu Police Department;
- Reviews the annual budget prepared by the Chief of Police and may make recommendations thereon to the Mayor;
- Compares at least annually the actual achievements of the police department with the goals and objectives in the five-year plan; and
- Receives, considers, and investigates charges brought by the public against the conduct of the department or any of its members and submits a written report of its findings to the Chief of Police.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF POLICE

Aloha,

Once again, another year has flown by. While national security and emergency preparedness continued to be priorities for the HPD, we have also initiated new programs here in Honolulu. Here are just some of the highlights from 2019:

The department introduced LIFT, a multiagency effort to address homelessness. The program uses commercial-grade tents to provide temporary housing for homeless persons who are waiting for shelter openings. So that more communities throughout the island can receive assistance, the tents are moved to a different location every 90 days.

After a decade-long break, the HPD brought back its popular Youth Citizens Police Academy. The program proved to be such a hit that a second class had to be added to accommodate the large number of interested teens.

Inspired in part by the national Coffee With A Cop, the department introduced its own version of community-police engagement called Meet the Major. It offers an informal way for residents to get to know the commander of the district in which they live or work.

There were also several large public protests this year, and officers from patrol and specialized units worked around the clock to ensure that civil rights were upheld and public safety was maintained. While arrests were unavoidable, the events were generally peaceful and no serious injuries were reported.

In closing, I thank the citizens of Honolulu and the entire HPD family for their continued support of our department. The Honolulu Police Department couldn't succeed without you all!

Susan Ballard, Chief of Police

DEPARTMENTAL ORGANIZATION

POWERS, DUTIES, AND FUNCTIONS

The Honolulu Police Department serves as the primary law enforcement agency for the entire island of Oahu.

The Chief of Police directs the operation and administration of the department and is responsible for the following:

- preservation of the public peace;
- protection of the rights of persons and property;
- prevention of crime;
- detection and arrest of offenders against the law;
- enforcement and prevention of violations of state laws and city ordinances; and
- service of processes and notices in civil and criminal proceedings.

The department's jurisdiction is the City and County of Honolulu. It includes the entire island of Oahu, which has a circumference of about 137 miles and an area of approximately 596 square miles. The estimated resident population is 980,080, which includes military personnel but not tourists.

For police operations, the island is divided into eight patrol districts; each district is subdivided into sectors and beats. The department's headquarters is at 801 South Beretania Street in downtown Honolulu. District stations are found in Kalihi, Kaneohe, Kapolei, Pearl City, and Wahiawa.

AT A GLANCE

In 2019, the Communications Division received 1,075,726 calls for service of which 935,012 (86.9 percent) were for police services. The division's operators routed 34,926 calls to the Honolulu Fire Department; 97,094 calls to the Emergency Medical Services Division and 399 to the Ocean Safety and Lifeguard Services Division, Honolulu Emergency Services Department. There were 8,295 calls for miscellaneous services which include, but are not limited to, calls for the Crisis Center, Poison Control, Regional Dispatch Center, and the neighbor island Public Safety Answering Points.

The Central Receiving Division is responsible for processing and detaining arrestees safely and securely. In 2019, divisional personnel processed a total of 14,566 adult and juvenile arrestees, provided 38,244 meals, and transported 9,115 arrestees to the court detention facility. On average, about 1,527 individuals were held overnight each month for a total of 18,334 overnight detainees in 2019.

2019 NOTEWORTHY

Join the Discussion

For better transparency and accessibility, District 1 modified the Coffee with a Cop concept and afforded its community a front row seat to real-world decision making by the district's senior staff. The district initiated a practice to hold staff meetings at different venues throughout its community.

Executive officers and field supervisors met at facilities such as stores, business buildings, and community centers that agreed to host them and discussed what they normally would in the district's office. After the meeting, the floor was opened to those in attendance to ask questions and express their concerns.

The first staff meeting was held at the University of Hawaii Cancer Center (UHCC) in Kakaako. Following the meeting, District 1 staff engaged the approximately 60 administrators, staff, and students from the UHCC and John A. Burns School of Medicine (JABSOM) in an open discussion. This event was so well received that the UHCC and JABSOM requested follow-up meetings and updates on their concerns as any progress would be included in the campus newsletter.

Track in Field

Moving forward with the use of technology, the Specialized Services Division (SSD) downloaded the beam911 software onto the department-issued smart phones of dog handlers. With accurate, real time communication, beam911 can pinpoint officers' locations and meticulously track their movements. This tracking or "bread crumbs" feature will help reduce overlapping of search areas which can prevent the loss of valuable time.

The real-time sharing of more information (e.g., officers' positions, observations, and situational changes), can quicken decisions for the dynamics of search and rescue operations. When SSD officers search for missing persons or wanted suspects, time is a critical factor for success. This software reduces repetitive searches, allowing for a more timely and efficient use of personnel and resources.

Meet the Major, District 7

Acting Major Gordon J. Lum Kee and his senior staff held District 7's second Meet the Major event at Aina Haina Elementary School in August 2019. The approximately 35 community members in attendance had an opportunity to discuss concerns and ask questions about their neighborhood or simply become familiar with their district's police leaders.

During the event, Acting Major Lum Kee and his team presented a course of action for issues that were raised. The team also provided brochures covering various safety tips from home security to scam prevention in hopes that better informed and aware citizens can reduce their risk of becoming victims of crimes.

Beyond the discussion on practical matters, it was more important that residents meet the people behind the badges and become familiar with their law enforcement leaders on a more personal level. The event built positive working relationships within the community and more will be scheduled in every district.

SEE Strategy

In order to address the increased criminal activity and growing homeless concerns in the Kakaako area, Captain Glenn Hayashi of District 1 developed a new initiative called SEE, which stands for Service, Enforcement, and Evaluation.

The first phase provided “Services” by way of a service fair with the department’s Community Outreach Unit, offering food, housing, and medical and personal hygiene services. Approximately 40 homeless individuals accepted these social services.

During the second “Enforcement” phase, officers focused on the Kakaako area and conducted strict enforcement of laws, resulting in numerous citations and arrests as well as the removal of many derelict vehicles.

District 1 supervisors then proceeded to the “Evaluation” phase by regularly monitoring the area to ensure that the safer and cleaner environment achieved during the first two phases was maintained.

CrimeStoppers Award

Sergeant Chris Kim, the CrimeStoppers Honolulu program coordinator, was named the 2019 CrimeStoppers National Coordinator of the Year during the CrimeStoppers USA National Conference in September 2019 in Tempe, Arizona. He was awarded this prestigious honor out of 350 CrimeStoppers coordinators across the nation. CrimeStoppers Honolulu encourages members of the community to assist local law enforcement agencies in the fight against crime. Callers remain anonymous and are eligible to receive a cash reward if the information they provide leads to an arrest, identification of a criminal perpetrator, recovery of stolen property or the seizure of illegal contraband.

The department’s program was also recognized for its innovative work with Student CrimeStoppers, Animal CrimeStoppers, and the use of in-house technology. The Honolulu Police Department’s program is the only program in the U.S. to have an all-volunteer staff of tip takers. During the year, the volunteers handled more than 5,000 telephone calls.

Heroes & Helpers

In early December 2019, police officers along with partners from public safety and city agencies participated in the Heroes & Helpers event at Target Salt Lake. Nationally for over 25 years, public safety agencies have worked with the Target & Blue™ program to promote positive interactions between youth and public safety officials.

At-risk youth between the ages of 8 months and 17 years old shopped alongside first responders for a holiday shopping spree. “Heroes” from the HPD, as well as the Honolulu Fire Department, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Defense, and many more came out to help the cause.

Target graciously provided approximately 200 children with their own $70 gift card to purchase items of their choice. Many of our heroes personally contributed as well.

Youth Citizens Police Academy

In July 2019, 43 students graduated from the Honolulu Police Department's (HPD) Youth Citizens Police Academy (YCPA). The last time there was a YCPA was approximately 15 years ago. The HPD revived the program in hopes of better engaging with youth in a positive environment and expanding their knowledge of law enforcement and the HPD. The goal of the YCPA program is to provide high school students with firsthand knowledge of a variety of police functions and related topics.

Of the 43 YCPA graduates, 11 continued with their policing journey by enrolling in the Law Enforcement Explorers Program (LEEP). The LEEP is a comprehensive program geared toward young adults 14-20 years old, who have an interest for a future career in law enforcement. Explorers participate in practical police training and tactics, physical fitness, competitive events, and community service projects. Through these activities, they gained leadership and teamwork skills as well as a better understanding of the objectives and methods of law enforcement. In 2019, there were 57 young adults participating in the LEEP.

For more information about the YCPA or LEEP, interested applicants can go to the COMMUNITY webpage of the HPD website at www.honolulupd.org or contact the Community Affairs Division at (808) 723-3475.

Planning, Education, and Readiness

Due to recent active threat events, many community groups and businesses want to be prepared with the tools and knowledge to respond and provide aid in these situations. The Major Events Division (MED) provided presentations regarding active threat response and other similar critical incidents to organizations such as the Daniel K. Inouye International Airport and Marine Corps Base Hawaii. The intent of these presentations was to enhance an organization's situational awareness and response preparedness in the event of a random act of violence or an act of terrorism.

The MED is responsible for assisting with the planning and management of major events that exceed the responsibilities and resources of a single patrol district. The division is also responsible for the planning, coordination, and training for civil defense and homeland security operations for the department.

The MED continued to support front-line officers and key stakeholders (federal, state, and local) by coordinating Incident Command System training and exercises and raising awareness of certain event characteristics and behaviors that may be active threat incident indicators.

Those who would like to schedule an active threat presentation for their organizations can do so by visiting the department's website at honoluluupd.org and completing the online Department Speaker/Station Tour Request form.

Pocket Power

In 2019, the Information Technology Division (ITD) began issuing departmental smartphones. Approximately 664 of the 1,675 smartphones have been issued to patrol, investigative, specialized, and command staff officers.

In addition to regular phone, texting, email, and other common smartphone capabilities, these smartphones provide officers with a compact device that allows them to quickly access case reports, body camera footage, and other sensitive information personal and public devices are not able to access.

This program will continue to expand on the device's capabilities and incorporate new applications to be more efficient.

The ITD expects to deploy the remaining 1,010 smartphones by the summer of 2020.

HONU

Homeless Outreach and Navigation for Unsheltered Persons

There are over 2,400 homeless, unsheltered individuals on the streets every day throughout the City and County of Honolulu. In December 2019, an initiative involving the city, state, social services, and healthcare providers was launched to address the homeless situation. It was designated as project HONU (Homeless Outreach and Navigation for Unsheltered Persons).

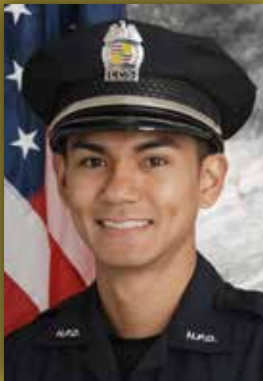

While complex in operation, the core concept of HONU, formerly known as LIFT, is simple: Temporarily lift park rules to allow homeless/unsheltered individuals to stay in mobile navigation centers with conditional access to shelter, food, a hygiene center, and pet kennels, as well as assistance in obtaining more permanent living arrangements. In order to receive such assistance, individuals must agree to accept services, abide by the rules, and move into a shelter.

Captain Mike Lambert spearheaded the department's commitment to the $6 million, state-funded, three-year pilot project. Operating in a selected area for 60 to 90 days, the program sets up approximately ten inflatable tents that can accommodate ten individuals.

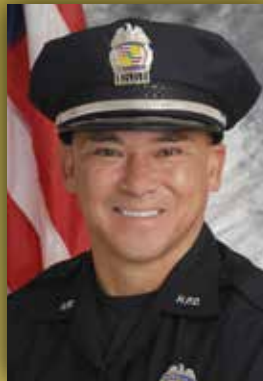

The transience of the entire HONU operation (i.e., structures and staff) allows more of those in need and in different areas of Oahu the opportunity to receive some assistance. As optimistic as the collective effort is toward improving homelessness, many more challenges need to be met. While Chief Susan Ballard realizes that one program will not solve all of the problems, she is hopeful that HONU will be a contribution to the overall solution.

HPD HALL OF FAME

Chief Lee D. Donohue

Appointed: July 1, 1964   Retired: June 30, 2004

Lee D. Donohue rose through the ranks to become the Honolulu Police Department's eighth chief of police from 1998 to 2004. Chief Donohue is credited with guiding the department into the 21st century. During his administration, the HPD was awarded national accreditation, replaced its outdated radio system, expanded community policing, and acquired bullet-resistant vests and automated external defibrillators. When other police departments tried to lure away HPD officers, HPD Chief Donohue stepped up hiring and retention efforts, reducing the shortage of officers to an unprecedented low. In the wake of the 9/11 attacks, Chief Donohue provided a calm and steady hand as police across the nation focus on anti-terrorism and heightened national security.

Chief Donohue has aided thousands of at-risk youths through Kick Start Karate, an organization that he co-founded to teach martial arts and life skills. He also led efforts to establish the Honolulu Police Community Foundation to promote positive community-police relations and to provide financial support to the HPD.

STATISTICS 2019

Violent and property crimes are categorized into seven serious offenses called index crimes, which are used to define trends over time and make comparisons across the nation. The statistics for index crimes are prepared and submitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting Program on a regular basis. Index crimes consist of four types of violent crimes (murder, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault) and three types of property crimes (burglary, larceny-theft, and motor vehicle theft). Definitions for the crimes are on page 25.

In 2019, the Honolulu Police Department's Case Report System was used to prepare the following 2019 tabular count data:

- * All index and non-index crime data except Murder;
- * Weapon type used in Robbery and Aggravated Assault;
- * Adult and Juvenile Arrests; and
- * District and Beat Offenses.

Murder and murder-related counts in Tables 1, 2, and 5 were obtained from the Honolulu Police Department's Homicide Detail, Criminal Investigation Division. Traffic fatality numbers were provided by the Traffic Division.

All count data, except for Curfew and Runaway in Table 4, were obtained from our department's Case Report System and converted from the National Incident-Based Report System to the Summary Reporting System.

INDEX CRIMES

INDEX CRIME DEFINITIONS

Index crime definitions from the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Reporting Program, Summary Reporting System Manual 1.0, are listed below:

INDEX	CRIME
MURDER	The willful (nonnegligent) killing of one human being by another.
FORCIBLE RAPE	Penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.
ROBBERY	The taking or attempted taking of anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.
AGGRAVATED ASSAULT	An unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe or aggravated bodily injury. This type of assault usually is accompanied by the use of a weapon or by means likely to produce death or great bodily harm.
BURGLARY	The unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or a theft.
LARCENY-THEFT	The unlawful taking, carrying, leading, or riding away of property from the possession or constructive possession of another.
MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT	The theft or attempted theft of a motor vehicle.
